

After a few minutes Mr Brown came out again. I stood behind the door and watched. Mr Brown went to our classroom again. I decided to go into the room.

It was very dark in the room. There was a smell of smoke from Mr Brown's pipe. I couldn't find a light switch, but there was a box of matches next to the door. I lit one. The room was full of very old books and newspapers. There was a newspaper open on the table. I read the headline.

That's our school!

Suddenly, I was scared. I looked at the date on the newspaper. It was September 20th, 1935.

"Today is September 20th too," I thought.

I took the newspaper and I started to read the article.

A student in class 6B starts a fire at West Hill School.

"We're in class 6B," I thought.

I continued to read.
