A UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

One of my favorite places in Israel is the Mahaneh Yehuda Market in Jerusalem. Its sights, sounds and smells all combine to make a visit there a unique experience.

I love to wander along the narrow paths between the stalls piled high with fruits and vegetables of every size, shape and color. The spice shops are also amazing. You can smell them before you even walk inside. If the wonderful aroma makes you hungry, you can always stop for something to eat at one of the little restaurants there.

Mahaneh Yehuda is a meeting place for people of different cultures. On any day, you can see Arabs and Jews, Israelis from more cities than you can count, and many tourists too. You can hear people speaking in many different languages, and above it all, the voices of the stall owners shouting out their prices.

As anyone who lives in Jerusalem knows, Mahaneh Yehuda is a great place to shop. But even if you don't want to buy anything, you'll have a good time just walking around. It's noisy, but it's a lot of fun.
